

Announcing rice business, Crop integrated business, transport, and services.

SGC 015/2022

Health and Nutrition Policy

---

Rice Business Crop Integrated Business Transport and services (business) focus on and strive to deliver quality products that are nutritious, safe for consumption and traceable. Tested and developed by experts and leading technology. From raw materials that have passed systematic quality checks and with efficient production processes according to international standards, coupled with responsible communication and business operations.

To be able to offer healthy and nutritious products suitable for consumers as well as to promote correct knowledge and understanding and access to quality and nutritious food, rice business, integrated crop business transport and service Therefore, guidelines have been established as follows:

Health product policy

1. Give importance to the production and distribution of fresh and hygienic food High quality through processes that comply with the laws, regulations and standards of Thailand and trading partner countries or above.
2. Products that contain essential nutrients and/or natural products. By strictly adhering to the principles and standards of the laws of Thailand and the countries in which the company conducts business or investments, including the requirements of customers that do not violate the laws of that country. However, energy and nutrients that are essential for the body will be determined in full and in the right amount for consumption.

Product Accessibility and Communications Policy

3. Product Label: Show details of key ingredients. Method of use and storage to help consumers know the nutritional value and avoid potential allergens. including maintaining or maintaining the nutritional value of the product properly and properly
4. Providing knowledge about correct consumption and good health by creating awareness among consumers By using the company's various communication channels such as print media, online media, etc., including clearly displaying nutritional information and product details. And it is beneficial to consumers on the labels of various products.

Policy on activities and promotion of health and wellness

5. Access to good health by promoting activities related to health and wellness both physically and mentally

For this health and nutrition policy to be implemented in a concrete manner Therefore, every company has to apply it to suit the business operation.

Announced on 22 March 2022